The city of Redlands revels in history...whether its remembering those who founded the city more than 100 years or a man who helped shape our nation. Lets look at how Redlands has honored Abraham Lincoln.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LIFE

There is no doubt that Abraham Lincoln is one of the most admired presidents in American history. In Washington there's a massive monument memorializing his leadership during one of our nations darkest periods. As honored as Lincoln is...there is only one monument honoring his accomplishments west of the Mississippi River...and that memorial can be found right here in southern California in Redlands in Southeastern San Bernardino County... where the solemn limestone Lincoln Memorial Shrine has stood for 75 years.

The Lincoln Memorial shrine was the brainchild of one of Redlands founding father Robert Watchorn who presented the shrine to the city of Redlands in 1932 not only as a tribute to Lincoln but as a tribute to his son who died from injuries suffered in World War one.

The Lincoln Shrine also features an original painting by Norman Rockwell called Thought of Peace on Lincolns Birthday which was donated to the shrine in 1945 just months after it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

The Lincoln Memorial Shrine in Redlands is surrounded by beautiful fountains and a park and is open to the public Tuesday through Sunday afternoons. Admission is free.

We've watched the trend building for some time now. Fifteen years ago, the only alternative to looking older was a facelift. But now the tide is turning. Plastic surgery and the airbrushed look that says face job now is very five minutes ago. After all, bad skin that is pulled back is still bad skin.

Doctor Foxx says that the aging process is better understood now than ever before.

We need to be clear on what happens when we age. The epidermis becomes thin and almost transparent. The collagen matrix is broken down by environmental damage. And then there is a loss of volume as the subcutaneous fat and connective tissue are no longer held in place.

Doctor Foxx says these factors combine to create wrinkles and that jowl-y look. It's something like a cosmetic buffet with each treatment yielding a different effect. We encourage our patients to focus on three or four of the things that will have the most effect. We don't strive for unnatural perfection but we seek a more natural look.

One of the most popular cosmetic treatments is BOTOX® with almost three million patients seeking treatment last year with this product. BOTOX® is the single most popular medical esthetic treatment in the world today.

Dermal fillers such as Restylane® and RADIESSE™ are a close second and are very effective in erasing frown lines and building lost lip volume. And now we have TITAN™, the most effective skin-tightening system in the world. Used in the right mix, these treatments can really yield meaningful results.

A group of five mothers have completed a U.S. cross-country road trip in which they blogged about their experiences. Driving a hybrid Tahoe, the moms chronicled their experiences which included stops in Chicago; Omaha, NE; Denver; Salt Lake City and Reno, NV. While the moms were sans children, they did have online access since the van was equipped with wireless Internet, cameras and recording equipment.

For the past seventy-five years Jewish Vocational Service has provided job training services to people facing barriers to employment including immigrants, troubled youth and seniors. Last year alone, more than 24-thousand people in the Los Angeles area expanded their professional skills through one-on-one counseling, job training and resume workshops at J-V-S.

Using electricity to power vehicles, once a distant dream, is now fast becoming a reality. These revolutionary vehicles are gaining popularity because they can reduce dependence on petroleum and lower greenhouse gas emissions, while also dramatically lowering the cost per mile to the driver. General Motors, the world's largest automaker, announced that it will collaborate with the nonprofit Electric Power Research Institute to accelerate the introduction of plug-in electric vehicles.
